Standard	Silver	Gold	Platinum
For companies who have access to professionals that have time and the skills to manage a server, but just need a little assistance now and then.	Aimed at organisations that have time to handle the normal day to day tasks but would prefer to leave the security patching and backups to us.	For companies who do not have access to professionals to manage a server, and need assistance with server patching, backups and ongoing technical support.	Ideal for mission critical systems and is strongly recommended for anyone that has limited technical expertise or experience working with servers, as well as those that would rather allocate their internal IT resources to other projects.
